Galveston Again Suffers

Flood and fire have again brought terror, destruction and And counterfeit Bruin at last makes heath to the inhabitants of Galveston and Houston. The angry sea and tropical gales have entered again their awful protest against man's audacity in attempting to extend his domain on the shores of the gulf.

Mountain high waves leaped over the huge causeway which man erected of stone, steel and concrete in front of Galreston to protect it from the fury of the elements. Great holes were torn in the protecting walls and through these apertures. s well as over the wall itself, the angry waters rushed into the city of Galveston.

The destruction of property resulting from the storm's attacks once more totaled millions of dollars and the toll of human life exacted was again heavy.

Galveston has been stricken by the angry elements before and with each assault the city enlarges and strengthens is defenses, anticipating future assaults. The defenses have proven sufficient to greatly reduce the loss of life and the destruction of property by these recurring storms, but never has psourceful man been able to comprehend the might of the angry elements or if able to realize that to the full, has failed in his efforts to construct defenses which will provide safety when the test comes and hold back, entirely, the flood waters.

It is doubtful if man's industry, ingenuity and persistener will ever be able to construct a barrier of sufficient size and strength to make Galveston secure.

Enormous as the present disaster is, it does not equal in the extent of property damage and loss of life those which have preceded it.

The effect of these repeated disasters is certain to retard the growth of Galveston in every way. Commerce, whereever possible, will seek a safer port of entry and a safer terminal for inland trade. People engaged in commerce, domestic or foreign, will pass Galveston by as dangerous to both life and property. The city is certain to suffer a reduction in population, it would seem, by reason of the loss of commercial

That everyone sympathizes deeply with the people of e stricken city goes without saying and everything possible being done by those outside to rush relief to the stricken nd imprisoned residents.

The Charges Against Germany

The disclosures now being made regarding the activities of the German secret service agents and the German propagandists in this country are astounding to a degree which at first challenges their correctness.

That representatives of the Kaiser's government would seek, by lavish expenditures of money, to obtain control of news agencies, chautauqua lecturers, motion picture film man-Macturers, magazine writers and newspaper correspondents, s, if true, an indication of the existence of an indomitable spirit, before which no undertaking seems impossible of accomplishment.

The charge, if warranted by the facts, that agents of the German government, have been creating dissatisfaction the nearest bar is the only way to among the laboring classes with a view to paralyzing the man-Macturing industry of this country and especially that branch which has to do with the manufacture of munitions of war, Proves that the German officials are not hampered with any onscientious scruples in their endeavors to accomplish their ourposes.

The most serious charges, however, the charge which cast he blackest blot on the morals of the German agents, is that attempts to gain control of industries and news agencies are conducted not with those in authority but with those who oc supy a confidential relation, seek, for a bribe, to betray their impleyers into the hands of those with whom they would not leal directly.

The charge that officials high in diplomatic circles have Made insincere protests and untruthful representations to government officials for the purpose of creating false impressions and inducing wrongful action is perhaps the most vic lous charge of all the long list. It strikes right at the root of the German government itself.

Germany cannot afford to be quiet under these charges. If baseless those who promulgate them should be punished.

Many Americans who read the preliminary announcement of these disclosures were inclined to pass them by as "yellow Mornalism," but as each day brings its publication of day ages on homes and farms. and details names and officials, the more serious the matter

Unexplained and underied these disclosures will do much to bring the German government into dispute in the United rectors.

No government whose cause is just, need resort to bribery, against loss by fire, cyclone, treachery and falsehood in order to further that cause.

It is difficult to believe that the great German government etc. will fall into such an error and it is certain that a people so 5. Our business carefully fundamentally honest as the Germans, would, under normal audited. conditions, make haste to repudiate a government that would descend to such methods.

During the year 1818 Thomas Carlyle, the Scotch philosopher, was living at Kirkcaldy, and he seems then for the first time to have fallen in love. The Faust Legend.

For 1,400 years the Faust legendthe sale of a human soul to a devilhas existed. The first recorded hint of its vitality is given in the sixth century story of "Theophilus." That story suited the early Christians in their ef forts to stamp out the necromancing devices of evilly disposed persons prone to seek power by unholy means. The association of the name of Faust, however, with the legend is not more than Fayette County, Ohio, deceased 400 years old. The likeliest prototype of the modern Faust is the man of the ame name who in Cracow holdly prolaimed himself a professor of magic in the sixteenth century stories Helen of Troy was bestowed by Mephistopheles upon Faust, and not until the middle of the eighteenth century does there appear a shadowy Margaret in the form of a "beautiful but poor girl." who afterward develops into the Margaret of Goethe cension.

Wednesday, the first big day of the Fayette county fair, from all standpoints, proved more successful than the most optimistic had dreamed of, and the fact that the crowds were pleased with the entertainment went far toward swelling the parade of amusement seekers to the fair grounds Thursday, which began carly and had developed to the proportions of a swarm by noon.

Early in the afternoon the attendance had eclipsed the large response of Wednesday, with every indication of breaking the record of Fayette county fairs.

More than a score of automobiles were busy hauling passengers to the fair gates from 8 o'clock in the morning on, and then had all they could do to handle the custom. The sidewalks were crowded.

The races of Wednesday had a great deal to do with the drawing of Thursday's large throng. In all classes the going was fast and fiercely contended and the sport satisfied the appetite of the most fastidious of track followers. The card for Thursday promised even more at-

As announced the baloon ascension Wednesday afternoon took place precisely on time and with little preliminary. Prof. Robison filled his balloon on the track green, while the races were progressing, and ascended immediately in front of the grandstand. The flight and parachute drop were as pretty as ever seen here. The balloon ascension is one of the features of each afternoon's program.

Other things which served to draw the crowds were the well filled classes of competitive exhibits. The horse show interesting and plentiful displays and good midway attractions.

An adequate and well systemized police supervision is finding no difficulty in keeping perfect order.

Parcel Post Display

The United States Parcel Post display, in charge of Postmaster Culhan, is one of the new exhibits at R. F. V the 1915 fair. Its purpose is to Royal Cadet show people what can be sent and how parcels should be wrapped. A large number are visiting it, located under the grand stand.

Wednesday's Races.

The best racing card of many a fair was put on Wednesday afternoon, holding the large crowd to the grand stand in excited interest throughout the afternoon.

The track was soft and slow, but despite this handicap the racing was fast and for all that was in it.

The 2:16 pace, with nine starters was a humdinger, best time in four heats 2:154. In five heats only one horse, Miss Gilbert, owned and driven by Oscar Vallery, was able to take two heats. The excellent head work shown by Vallery went far towards winning the race for Miss Gilbert. Homer S., owned by Charles Sheridan, was a hot contender for first money, winning second. His wonderful burst of speed in the third heat drew great cheering from the Rowlands' "Martin Markall," 1610, we grand stand

There were four starters in the 2:20 trot, won by Cute, owned by C. B. Stroud, Ben Hur, Frank Rennick's fast trotter, finished first in But Cupid lazeth 'mongst the falery the first heat, but in the second heat was set back for running. Cute trotted the entire race without a break.

Keen Sport and Entertainment of exciting finishes marked the 2:26 pace, best time 2:15 1/4. Arithmetic by Hand. We shall never be in danger of forgetting that our ancestors did their sums on their fingers so long as arithmetic retains the word "digits." before reaching a conclusion. Did you ever know that the Government, after careful laboratory tests, found Southern Yellow Pine to have greater breaking strength than White Oak, and greater crushing strength than White Oak, Rock Elm, Hard Maple or Big Shellbark Hickory? That is fact, surprising though it may be.

Here are the Government's figures, made by the experts of the Forest Service, in comparing various commercial woods:

Woods Tested LONG LEAF YELLOW PINE. White Oak... Post Oak... White Elm. Sheilbark Hickory Hard Maple Rock Elm .5.820

And in addition to those superior qualities, Southern Yellow Pine lumber costs much less than any of the others. That is a valuable tip the Government gives you. It shows you how you can get from your home dealer any quantity of clear, straight-grained, dur able, easy-working lumber stronger than Oak, for a very moderate price. There is no other wood so perfectly adapted to so many uses.

TONNAGE OF A VESSEL.

Just What It is and the Methods by Which It Is Measured.

To find the tonnage or displacement of a ship is rather puzzling. The tonpage of a ship is the measure of its cubical or carrying capacity expressed in tons. At the present time there are four methods in use of expressing the tonnage of a ship, known respectively as the gross tonnage, the net register tonnage, the deadweight tonnage and the displacement tennage.

In calculating the gross tonnage the whole interior capacity of the ship below the tonnage deck is found, including that of all covered in spaces on deck used for stowage, and the result in cubic feet is divided by 100.

tonuage minus all the spaces used for the accommodation of the crew and instruments and the working parts of the ship. It is on the net register tonnage that almost invariably dues are The deadweight tonnage is the measure of the exact amount of cargo that a ship can carry without sinking too deep in the water. The displacement tonnage is the THE OLD space occupied by the ship in the water. The amount of water displaced by a ship is, of course, equal in weight to the ship and all it contains. As 1 25 lbs best granulated sugar per one ton is equal to thirty-five cubic feet of water, the displacement tonnage is found by dividing the number of cubic feet of water displaced by thirty-five when the ship is immersed Golden Sun coffee per lb ... up to its draft or load line .- London , Arbuckle coffee per lb. 20c Standard.

GEOLOGIC PERIODS.

Stories of Time Told by Fossilized Plants and Animals.

Scientists hesifate to estimate geological time in terms of years. Such estimates have, however, been made. and one published by Professor Charles Schuchert in 1910 states that about 12,000,000 years have elapsed since the close of the carboniferous age, an age, as the name suggests, in which great goods. deposits of carbon, in coal, were being formed in many parts of the world. This age has been divided by geologists into the Mississippian, Pennsylvanian and Permian epochs, of which the Mississippian is the oldest and the Permian the youngest. The Pennsylvanian epoch alone is estimated by Schuchert to have covered 2,160,000 years, and animal life is supposed to have existed on the earth for over 14. 000,000 years before that time.

Geologic periods are recognized primarily by the animals and plants that lived in them, so that the study of fossils plays a very real and important part in the progress of geologic knowl-

Rocks of carboniferous age, as shown by their fossils, have a wide distribution in the United States, and they are apt to abound in these remains of plant and animal life. The fossil shells which are found in them, however, may vary greatly from point to point, because the animals they represent lived in different periods of geologic time or in different regions in the carboniferous ocean.-Argonaut.

UNION DELIVERY

REPLIES OF MEXICANS RECEIVED

Villa and Allies Willing to Enter Into Peace Convention.

Washington, Aug. 19. — General Francisco Villa has decided to enter into a peace convention with a view to a re-establishment of a constitutional government in Mexico, as proposed in the Latin-American note forwarded to the Mexican chieftains last week. Villa's response was today submitted to Secretary Lansing. It was presented by Enrique C. Llorente, the Washington agent of the so called convention government of Mexico.

Unofficial advices received here are to the effect that the first caief, Carranza, will respond by making a formal request that the United States and Latin America recognize the constitutional government.

It is known that General Emissano Zapata, ally of Villa, will accesse in the Pan-American peace convention plan. Governor Conto of Lower California, Mexico, has also signified to Mr. Lansing his purpose of entering the proposed peace convention. Mr. Llorente, who was among those invited to become parties to the peace convention, formally notified the secretaary of state that he is in accord with the plan of the United States and Latin America to assist Mexicans to right the sovereignty of Mexico before the world

It is the general paderstanding that the tesponse of Carranza will be received about Aug. 24. If Caranza refuses to assent to the peace proposal of the Pan-American conference, as now seems assured, the Mexican question may assume a graver aspect, so far as the United States is concerned, than it has at any time in the past five years. Hope is expressed by the administration leaders that Carranza will see the wisdom of making a reply that may be used as a compromise between the factions.

WILSON URGED TO CALL SENAT

Wilson will be urged by certain Demceratic senators to call the senate in extra session regardless of what he may decide as to calling both houses of congress. Those who urge the extra session want it called to meet.Oct. 15, and the object of it is to ratify treaties coming over from the last congress and others that may be post-Loned, but primarily to pass cloture Senators Owen and Kern are on record heretofore in interviews as advocating an early session to insure time to pass cloture. Senator Owen is now in Washington. He is here as the chairman of the special committee of Democratic caucus to prepare a form of cloture to be reported to the full senate for ratification. The Democratic leaders expect to put through the ship purchase bill and probably a stock and bond bill after the form of the Owen-Untermyer bill of the last congress, by the aid of cloture.

GOVERNOR IN CHARGE OF PROBE

Thorough Inquiry to Be Made Into Lynching of Leo Frank

REWARDS WILL BE OFFERED

Georgia's Chief Executive Declares
Every Effort In His Power Will Be Made to Bring Guilty Members of the Mob to Justice—Prison Officials
Expected to Aid the Probers of the Tragedy.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 19.—Governor Nate Harris has taken charge of the investigation of the lynching of Leo Frank, and stated nothing would be left undone to punish the members of the mob. Said the governor: "The lynching will be probed to the bottom and every effort within my power will be made to bring the members of the mob to justice. At the proper time I will offer suitable rewards for the arrest and conviction of the men and I will urge the judge, the solicitor and the sheriff to make diligent efforts to apprehend them."

Governor Harris will first hold a conference with the members of the prison commission to determine whether the officials and guards at the state prison farm should be neld responsible for allowing the mob to take Frank out of their hands.

A special meeting has been held by the Cobb county commissioners, who expressed a determination to sift the tragedy and co-operate with the governor. But there will be no action taken until some definite procedure has been decided upon by the state authorities. Prison Commissioner Rainey, who was at the state prison farm when the mob overpowered the officials and took Frank, said that the officials at the state prison should not be held responsible for the removal of Frank, nor, he added, would the prison commissioners, who were at the farm, be held responsible: "The mob took everybody completely by surprise and nobody had a chance to resist." Mr. Rainey declared

The governor hopes to obtain information from the commissioners and possibly some of the prison officials who were overawed that will lead to the identification of some of the lynchers. Only a few members of the gang wore masks. If the identification of any of the men is established the governor said he would make every effort to have them arrested.

Stories represented as coming indiiectly from "men who knew," reciting details of the actual lynching, increased in number. Each one of the accounts indicated that Frank was not harmed on the trip from Milledgeville to the lynching scene, and that he faced death in full realization of the gang's intentions.

WRITING ON METALS.

By the Use of Wax and Acids Etchings May Easily Be Made.

Usually a man attempts to put his name on his metal possessions by scratching with a file or knife point and makes the poorest sort of a job. It is really very easy to write on any metal—the blade of a jackknife, a watchcase, skates—if one happens to know how, and the attractiveness of the inscription is limited only by the artistic ability of the individual.

Cover the place where you wish to write with a thin coating of melted beeswax. When the wax is cold write plainly with any pointed instrument, being particular to cut the letters through the wax to the metal.

Then mix one ounce of muriatic acid and one-half of an ounce of nitric acid, or smaller quantities in the same proportions (and remember that those acids are deadly poisons), and apply the mixture to the lettering with a feather, carefully filling each letter.

Allow the acids to remain from one to ten minutes, according as the etching is to be light or deep. Next dip the article in water, wash out the acids and welt off the wax, and the thing is done. A little oil should be applied as a finishing touch. Gold, silver, iron or steel can be marked in this way.—Youth's Companion.

Easily Arranged.

A man took the following telegram to a telegraph office: "Mrs. Brown, Center Street: I announce with grief the death of Uncle James. Come quickly to read the will. I believe we are his heirs. John Black."

Columbus, August 19. four machine guns, each capable of firing five hundred shots a minute, have been received by the Ohio National Guard from the War Department and will soon be placed in servcamp at Yellow Springs last week and their efficiency as demonstrated in the present European war, was shown, according to officials of the adjutant general's department.

Major John S. Shetler, of the quartermaster's department said today that in his opinion the machine guns were the most valuable acquisition to the equipment of the national guards in years. The guns, although intended primarily to be transported on pack mules, were carried by the guardsmen in practice over rough country with ease. "Each gun weighs but 20 pounds," said

Columbus, August 19.—More men received military training in the national guard encampment this summer than ever before in the history of the state, according to officials of the adjutant general's department. About 1600 citizen soldiers were added to rosters of the different regiments prior to the 1915 maneuvers who had not taken part in the 1914 training period, a condition, officers declare, is so "very gratifying."

The unusual increase in the enrollment of the national guards is ascribed by Adjutant General Huff Close of Markets Yesterday and his officers to the Mexican situation and in the intense interest shown in the matter of national defense since the European war broke out. Its Diameter Becomes About Four Miles Less Each Century.

There are various theories to account for the enormous store of beat and light in the sun. The theory now generally accepted by physicists is that the gradual contraction of the sun in cooling is the chief source of apparent inexhaustible energy. It has been valculated that at the present rate of expenditure of heat the sun's diameter would contract four miles in a century. and in a few millions of years it may become as dense as the earth.

The sun is supposed to be composed of much the same materials as the earth, except that they are at a much difficult to match the following sub higher temperature. About forty of the seventy terrestrial elements have been identified by the spectroscope as existing in the vapors around the sun you will believe that, wherever I am Astronomers think that they find traces there of very few substances not already known. Even these may be disrovered on the earth some day.

It has been calculated that the heat thrown on a square mile exposed at noon under the equator would melt in an hour 26,000 tons of ice. This amount has to be multiplied fifty million times threatened "awful consequences" to the to arrive at the quantity of heat received by the earth's surface during a released certain gentlemen imprisoned single hour. THE CZAR'S CHECK.

It Passed Over Itching Palms, but That Was No Surprise.

When Professor Tuxen, the Danish artist, had finished his great work, "The Coronation of Edward VII.," he received, it appears, an order from the Russian emperor for a copy of this painting, for which the czar was to pay 12,000 rubles.

In due course the professor repaired to Petrograd to deliver the painting. lief fund, the department of health | He was granted an audience with the czar, who expressed his satisfaction with the picture and who handed the professor an order on the imperial treasury for the sum agreed upon.

When the professor presented the check for payment he was told that an order from the emperor was subject to a discount, and he had, therefore, to accept a sum considerably smaller than the face value of the check.

Before his departure from Russia the professor had a farewell audience with the czar, who in the course of conversation asked him, "Did you get your money, professor?"

Professor Tuxen replied that he had

Curious Letter Endings.

A few specimens of the style of be ginning and ending letters in the of days may prove interesting as in strik ing contrast to the laconic "yours ob diently," "faithfully" or "truly" of the present day. Galveston Again Suffers

Thursday, August 10, 101

Flood and fire have again brought terror, destruction and And counterfeit Bruin at last makes death to the inhabitants of Galveston and Houston. The angry sea and tropical gales have entered again their awful protest against man's audacity in attempting to extend his domain on the shores of the gulf.

Mountain high waves leaped over the huge causeway which man erected of stone, steel and concrete in front of Galreston to protect it from the fury of the elements. Great holes were torn in the protecting walls and through these apertures, as well as over the wall itself, the angry waters rushed into the eity of Galveston.

The destruction of property resulting from the storm's attacks once more totaled millions of dollars and the toll of human life exacted was again heavy.

Galveston has been stricken by the angry elements before and with each assault the city enlarges and strengthens its defenses, anticipating future assaults. The defenses have proven sufficient to greatly reduce the loss of life and the destruction of property by these recurring storms, but never has resourceful man been able to comprehend the might of the mgry elements or if able to realize that to the full, has failed in his efforts to construct defenses which will provide safety when the test comes and hold back, entirely, the flood waters. It is doubtful if man's industry, ingenuity and persistenev will ever be able to construct a barrier of sufficient size and strength to make Galveston secure.

Enormous as the present disaster is, it does not equal in the extent of property damage and loss of life those which have preceded it.

The effect of these repeated disasters is certain to retard the growth of Galveston in every way. Commerce, whereever possible, will seek a safer port of entry and a safer terminal for inland trade. People engaged in commerce, domestic or foreign, will pass Galveston by as dangerous to both life and property. The city is certain to suffer a reduction in population, it would seem, by reason of the loss of commercial

That everyone sympathizes deeply with the people of the stricken city goes without saying and everything possible being done by those outside to rush relief to the stricken and imprisoned residents.

The Charges Against Germany

The disclosures now being made regarding the activities of the German secret service agents and the German propagandists in this country are astounding to a degree which at first challenges their correctness.

That representatives of the Kaiser's government would seek, by lavish expenditures of money, to obtain control of news agencies, chautauqua lecturers, motion picture film manufacturers, magazine writers and newspaper correspondents, is, if true, an indication of the existence of an indomitable spirit, before which no undertaking seems impossible of accomplishment.

The charge, if warranted by the facts, that agents of the German government, have been creating dissatisfaction among the laboring classes with a view to paralyzing the manufacturing industry of this country and especially that branch which has to do with the manufacture of munitions of war, proves that the German officials are not hampered with any conscientious scruples in their endeavors to accomplish their

The most serious charges, however, the charge which cast the blackest blot on the morals of the German agents, is that attempts to gain control of industries and news agencies are conducted not with those in authority but with those who occupy a confidential relation, seek, for a bribe, to betray their employers into the hands of those with whom they would not deal directly.

The charge that officials high in diplomatic circles have made insincere protests and untruthful representations to government officials for the purpose of creating false impressions and inducing wrongful action is perhaps the most viclous charge of all the long list. It strikes right at the root of the German government itself.

Germany cannot afford to be quiet under these charges. If baseless those who promulgate them should be punished.

Many Americans who read the preliminary announcement of these disclosures were inclined to pass them by as "yellow Mornalism," but as each day brings its publication of day and details names and officials, the more serious the matter

Unexplained and underied these disclosures will do much to bring the German government into dispute in the United rectors.

No government whose cause is just, need resort to bribery, against loss by fire, cyclone, treachery and falsehood in order to further that cause.

It is difficult to believe that the great German government etc. will fall into such an error and it is certain that a people so fundamentally honest as the Germans, would, under normal audited. conditions, make haste to repudiate a government that would descend to such methods.

SHARPENING A PENCIL

The Way a Child Does It Is an Index to Its Character.

It is very often the little things that children de which give the best indication of what their future characters will be. Schoolteachers, for instance, have a first rate opportunity for watching the different traits in the children who come before them. In their work and in their play the sort of man or woman the child will become is daily unfolded. In such a small matter even as the sharpening of a pencil valuable hints may be obtained by any one in the least observant. Here it may easily be discovered whether a boy or girl on it-no debts against it. is careful, destructive, wasteful or economical.

The boy, for instance, who sharpens his pencil into a stub is inclined to be economical, careful and quick in after life. The boy or girl who takes an inordinately long time to make a slender point, cutting very precisely and regularly all the time will usually prove to be of an artistic and dreamy disposition. The child who, regardless of the look of the pencil, gouges out great pieces in order to get to the lead will show impulsiveness and generos the sale of a human soul to a devilhas existed. The first recorded hint of its vitality is given in the sixth cen tury story of "Theophilus." That story suited the early Christians in their efforts to stamp out the necromancing devices of evilly disposed persons prone to seek power by unholy means. The association of the name of Faust, how ever, with the legend is not more than 400 years old. The likeliest prototype of the modern Faust is the man of the ame name who in Cracow boldly pro laimed himself a professor of magic In the sixteenth century stories Helen of Troy was bestowed by Mephisto pheles upon Faust, and not until the middle of the eighteenth century does there appear a shadowy Margaret in the form of a "beautiful but poor girl." who afterward develops into the Margaret of Goethe.

The Faust Legend. For 1,400 years the Faust legend-

TONNAGE OF A VESSEL.

Just What It Is and the Methods by Which It Is Measured.

To find the tonnage or displacement of a ship is rather puzzling. The tonnage of a ship is the measure of its cubical or carrying capacity expressed in tons. At the present time there are four methods in use of expressing the tonnage of a ship, known respectively as the gross tonnage, the net register tonnage, the deadweight tonnage and the displacement tonnage.

In calculating the gross tonnage the whole interior capacity of the ship below the tonnage deck is found, includ ing that of all covered in spaces on deck used for stowage, and the result in cubic feet is divided by 100.

The net register tonnage is the gross the accommodation of the crew and instruments and the working parts of the ship. It is on the net register tonnage that almost invariably dues are The deadweight tonnage is the measure of the exact amount of cargo that a ship can carry without sinking too deep in the water. The displacement tonnage is the THE OLO space occupied by the ship in the waby a ship is, of course, equal in weight to the ship and all it contains. As 125 lbs best granulated sugar per one ton is equal to thirty-five cubic feet of water, the displacement tonnage is found by dividing the number of cubic feet of water displaced by up to its draft or load line.-London Arbuckle coffee per lb. 20e Standard.

GEOLOGIC PERIODS.

Stories of Time Told by Fossilized Plants and Animals. Scientists hesifate to estimate geological time in terms of years. Such estimates have, however, been made, and one published by Professor Charles Schuchert in 1910 states that about 12,000,000 years have elapsed since the close of the carboniferous age, an age, as the name suggests, in which great goods deposits of carbon, in coal, were being formed in many parts of the world. This age has been divided by geologists into the Mississippian, Pennsylvanian and Permian epochs, of which the Mississippian is the oldest and the Permian the youngest. The Pennsylvanian epoch alone is estimated by Schuchert to have covered 2,160,000 years, and animal life is supposed to have existed on the earth for over 14,-000,000 years before that time.

Geologic periods are recognized primarily by the animals and plants that lived in them, so that the study of fossils plays a very real and important part in the progress of geologic knowl-Rocks of carboniferous age, as shown by their fossils, have a wide distribution in the United States, and they are apt to abound in these remains of plant and animal life. The fossil shells which are found in them, however, may vary greatly from point to point, because the animals they represent lived in different periods of geologic time or in different regions in the carboniferous ocean.-Argonaut,

Villa and Allies Willing to Enter Into Peace Convention.

Washington, Aug. 19. - General Francisco Villa has decided to enter into a peace convention with a view to a re-establishment of a constitutional government in Mexico, as proposed in the Latin-American note forwarded to the Mexican chieftains last week, Villa's response was today submitted to Secretary Lansing. It was presented by Enrique C. Llorente. the Washington agent of the so called convention government of Mexico.

Unofficial advices received here are to the effect that the first chief, Carranza, will respond by making a formal request that the United States and Latin America recognize the constitutional government.

It is known that General Emigano Zapata, ally of Villa, will acceed in the Pan-American peace convention plan. Governor Conto of Lower California, Mexico, has also signified to Mr. Lansing his purpose of entering the proposed peace convention. Mr. Llorente, who was among those invited to become parties to the peace convention, formally notified the secretaary of state that he is in accord with the plan of the United States and Latin America to assist Mexicans to right the sovereignty of Mexico before

It is the general understanding that the response of Carranza will be received about Aug. 24. If Caranza refuses to assent to the peace proposal of the Pan-American conference, as now seems assured, the Mexican question may assume a graver aspect, so far as the United States is concerned. toan it has at any time in the past five years. Hope is expressed by the administration leaders that Carranza will see the wisdom of making a reply that may be used as a compromise between the factions.

Washington, Aug. 19. - President Wilson will be urged by certain Demccratic senators to call the senate in extra session regardless of what he may decide as to calling both houses of congress. Those who urge the extra session want it called to meet, Oct. 15, and the object of it is to ratify treaties coming over from the last congress and others that may be post-Loned, but primarily to pass cloture. Senators Owen and Kern are on record heretofore in interviews as advocating an early session to insure time to pass cloture. Senator Owen is now in Washington. He is here as the chairman of the special committee of Democratic caucus to prepare a torm of cloture to be reported to the full senate for ratification. Thorough Inquiry to Be Made Into Lynching of Leo Frank

REWARDS WILL BE OFFERED

Georgia's Chief Executive Declares Every Effort In His Power Will Be Made to Bring Guilty Members of the Mob to Justice-Prison Officials Expected to Aid the Probers of the

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 19. Governor Nate Harris has taken charge of the investigation of the lynching of Leo Frank, and stated nothing would be left undone to punish the members of the mob. Said the governor: "The lynching will be probed to the bottom and every effort within my power will be made to bring the members of the mob to justice. At the proper time I will offer suitable rewards for the arrest and conviction of the men and I will urge the judge, the solicitor and the sheriff to make diligent efforts to apprenend them."

Governor Harris will first hold a conference with the members of the prison commission to determine whether the officials and guards at the state prison farm should be held responsible for allowing the mob to take Frank out of their hands.

A special meeting has been held by the Cobb county commissioners, who expressed a determination to sift the tragedy and co-operate with the governor. But there will be no action taken until some definite procedure has been decided upon by the state authorities. Prison Commissioner Rainey, who was at the state prison farm when the mob overpowered the officials and took Frank, said that the officials at the state prison should not be held responsible for the removal of Frank, nor, he added, would the prison commissioners, who were at the farm, be held responsible: "The mob took everybody completely by surprise and nobody had a chance to resist," Mr. Rainey declared.

The governor hopes to obtain information from the commissioners and ibly some of the prison officials who were overawed that will lead to the identification of some of the lynchers. Only a few members of the gang wore masks. If the identification of any of the men is established the governor said he would make every effort to have them arrested.

Stories represented as coming indiectly from "men who knew," reciting details of the actual lynching, increased in number. Each one of the accounts indicated that Frank was not harmed on the trip from Milledgeville to the lynching scene, and that he faced death in full realization of the gang's intentions.

WRITING ON METALS.

By the Use of Wax and Acids Etchings May Easily Be Made.

Usually a man attempts to put his name on his metal possessions by scratching with a file or knife point and makes the poorest sort of a job. It is really very easy to write on any metal-the blade of a jackknife, a watchcase, skates-if one happens to know how, and the attractiveness of the inscription is limited only by the artistic ability of the individual.

Cover the place where you wish to write with a thin coating of melted beeswax. When the wax is cold write plainly with any pointed instrument, being particular to cut the letters through the wax to the metal.

Then mix one ounce of muriatic acid and one-half of an ounce of nitric acid. or smaller quantities in the same proportions (and remember that those acids are deadly poisons), and apply the mixture to the lettering with a feather, carefully filling each letter.

Allow the acids to remain from one to ten minutes, according as the etching is to be light or deep. Next dip the article in water, wash out the acids and welt off the wax, and the thing is done. A little oil should be applied as finishing touch. Gold, silver, iron or steel can be marked in this way .fouth's Companion.

Easily Arranged.

A man took the following telegram to a telegraph office: "Mrs. Brown, Center Street: I announce with grief the death of Uncle James. Come quickly to read the will. I believe we are his heirs. John Black."

The telegraph clerk, having counted the words, said, "There are two words too many, sir."

"Cut out 'with grief,'" was the reply.-Chicago News.

There are many styles in newspaper advertising and the small announcement, which costs only five cents, is just as effective in its way as the larger one, which costs proportionately more. The benefits to be derived can not be measured by the size of the ad, for the very good reason that the small, inexpensive anonuncement invariably proves effective. Newspaper advertising costs from five cents up to any price the advertiser desires to pay.

Major John S. Shetler, of the quartermaster's department said today that in his opinion the machine guns were the most valuable acquisition to the equipment of the national guards in years. The guns, although intended primarily to be transported on pack mules, were carried by the guardsmen in practice over rough country with ease. "Each gun weighs but 20 pounds." said Major Shetler.

About 1600 citizen soldiers were added to rosters of the different regiments prior to the 1915 maneuvers who had not taken part in the 1914 training period, a condition, officers declare, is so "very gratifying." The unusual increase in the en-

OUR SHRINKING SUN.

There are various theories to account for the enormous store of heat and light in the sun. The theory now generally accepted by physicists is that the gradual contraction of the sun in cooling is the chief source of apparent inexhaustible energy. It has been calculated that at the present rate of expenditure of heat the sun's diameter would contract four miles in a century. and in a few millions of years it may become as dense as the earth.

The sun is supposed to be composed of much the same materials as the earth, except that they are at a much higher temperature. About forty of the seventy terrestrial elements have been identified by the spectroscope as existing in the vapors around the sun. Astronomers think that they find traces there of very few substances not already known. Even these may be disrovered on the earth some day.

It has been calculated that the heat thrown on a square mile exposed at noon under the equator would melt in an hour 26,000 tons of ice. This amount has to be multiplied fifty million times to arrive at the quantity of heat received by the earth's surface during a single hour. Yet this enormous supply is even less than one two-thousandmillionth part of what the sun pours forth in all directions in space. It stands to reason that this inconceivable outgiving of heat must be accom- on the corner with his hands in his panied by a gradual though imperceptible diminution in the size of the sun.-Philadelphia Press.

THE CZAR'S CHECK.

It Passed Over Itching Palms, but That Was No Surprise.

When Professor Tuxen, the Danish artist, had finished his great work, "The Coronation of Edward VII.," he received, it appears, an order from the Russian emperor for a copy of this painting, for which the czar was to pay 12,000 rubles.

In due course the professor repaired to Petrograd to deliver the painting. He was granted an audience with the czar, who expressed his satisfaction with the picture and who handed the professor an order on the imperial treasury for the sum agreed upon.

When the professor presented the check for payment he was told that an order from the emperor was subject to a discount, and he had, therefore, to accept a sum considerably smaller than the face value of the check.

Before his departure from Russia the professor had a farewell audience with the czar, who in the course of conversation asked him, "Did you get your money, professor?"

Professor Tuxen replied that he had not intended to mention the mar but since his majesty himself rai the question be would say he had ceived only part of the money. At this the czar seemed not at surprised, but calmly made out and er order for the sum which had b deducted from the original amount and thus Tuxen got his money.-Wa
